

AT A GLANCE: PARENTAL RIGHTS

The parental rights of public-sector health and social services employees come from more than one source. A combination of benefits provided by the current APTS collective agreement and the Québec Parental Insurance Plan (QPIP) supports new parents.

To make sure you're exercising all your rights, you'll also need to check the current APTS collective agreement and the QPIP website (www.rqap.gouv.qc.ca/en) for further details about the parental insurance plan.

QPIP

To qualify for the QPIP, you must meet the following conditions.

- You have contributed to the QPIP.
- You are a wage-earner, a self-employed worker, or both.
- You reside in Québec on the date your benefit period begins.
- You accumulated at least $2,000 in insurable earnings* in the 52 weeks before your leave, regardless of how many hours you worked.
- You have stopped working, or your usual weekly pay has been reduced by at least 40%.

The maximum insurable income used to calculate benefits is $91,000 for 2023 and $94,000 for 2024. This income is adjusted on January 1 of each year, according to the rate set by the Commission des normes, de l'équité, de la santé et de la sécurité du travail (CNESST).*

APTS

To be eligible for the benefits set out in the collective agreement, you must have completed at least 20 weeks of service in the public and para-public sector, starting from the initial date on which you were hired by one of the institutions covered by the agreement. (See the collective agreement for details.)

WHAT TYPES OF BENEFITS ARE OFFERED?

QPIP

The Québec Parental Insurance Plan offers four types of benefits: maternity benefits, paternity benefits, parental benefits and adoption benefits. Parents can choose between two options, the basic plan or the special plan. Their choice determines how long their leave will be and what percentage of their income will be replaced. The parent who first receives benefits chooses a benefit plan. This choice cannot later be changed to get a different benefit plan for the same event.

APTS

The collective agreement offers three kinds of benefits: maternity, paternity and adoption. It does not provide parental benefits. The collective agreement also offers a period of leave without pay or part-time leave without pay for new parents who want to take care of their child. During this leave, parents can receive QPIP parental benefits.
